Paper Submission

Papers (research notes, full papers with experimental details or reviews) for consideration and presentation as posters should be sent by email directly to the appropriate section convener listed above before August 1, 2000. The authors are encouraged to make use of the new possibilities by presenting research results on a webpage. Samples can be found on the ECSOC-3 homepage: <http://www.unibas.ch/mdpi/ecsoc-3.htm>

Presentation and Publication

All accepted papers will be posted as websites during September 1–30, 2000. The ECSOC-4 Proceedings will be published later online and as a CD-ROM edition. Posters presented at ECSOC-4 are preliminary communications of research results and review papers and may be published in another form later in any chemistry journal. Authors are invited to publish their papers subsequently in Molecules (<http://www.mdpi.org/molecules>, editor in chief: Prof. Reinhard Neier, University of Neuchatel, Switzerland).
